Tech Lead, by Profession @ RBS, I practice fullstack mode of software development. I lead a small team of software developers. We follow agile practices and devOps toolsets for our build and delivery. I also code in the sprints apart from playing a lead role and helping on team mates in various sorts of impediments that they encounter. My favourite tech stack is python, plsql, html5, react etc. I am a versatile developer also. I also love to discuss on architectureal patterns and proposing solutions that can scale to business problems.

I am looking out for engineering lead, tech lead sort of roles that are directly answerable to engineering / programme manager / Director to the project.

I am available anytime in the morning for the telephonic discussion about the roles and myself for the hiring.

Regards,
DP
